

HP Latex Compatible Medias

Registered Latex Developer

Ultraflex and HP have worked together for decades to provide reliable media solutions. Ultraflex supported the HP Latex Ink development program from its early stages and has been named a registered media developer for HP Latex Printing Technologies. Numerous medias from the Ultraflex line have been tested and certified for their superior compatibility with HP's line of Latex printers including environmentally friendly products from the UltraGreen line. Ultraflex is happy to provide our customers with ICC profiles and print settings on our website.
